Parties receiving this paper who have not ordered the same may know that some friend has ordered it for them and that they will not be called upon to pay for it.

LOCAL NOTES.

City election next Monday.
How are you going to vote next Monday.

Bonds for deeds for sale at the LEADER office.

The drouth was broken last night by a gentle and refreshing rain.

The rain of last night and today will put a stop to burning brush for a time.

Miss Jennie Alexander is assisting Sheriff Landis in preparing his delinquent tax roll.

A half interest in the Corvallis Gazette has been sold to E. Finley Kilson, recently from Indiana.

A. R. Chapman, the O. P. agent, has moved into the new residence recently completed by Henry Wulf.

G. E. Bridges, representing the Hall & O'Donald Lithographing Co., at Topeka, is in this city today.

Chas. Dick is carrying around a very sore hand which is afflicted with something of the nature of a bone catarrh.

A marriage license was issued this week to William Samuels and Lucy Wilson. The parties are Indians at the Siletz.

We understand that the saw mill will start up the latter part of the week and saw up some bridge lumber, and perhaps some for the yard.

The Oregon Pacific paid their employees 50 percent of their July wages today. How soon another payment will be made is not known.

Mrs. W. H. Logan, living northwest of town, who has been seriously ill for some time is now recovering, and promises soon to regain her wonted health.

How many of our farmers are raising their own pork? Clover makes good pork and there is not a better clover country anywhere than right here in Lincoln county. Just try hogs on clover once.

L. D. Forrest, of Eugene, will ship about 700 pounds of Oregon grape root, which he has gathered, to a San Francisco firm of manufacturing druggists for medicinal purposes. It will go by team to Corvallis and by the Oregon Pacific.

We are requested to announce there will be a meeting of the Bay creditors of Hamilton, Job & Co. at Yaquina Sunday, September 10. As many as possible are urged to attend, as it will be of interest to all.

The Corvallis papers had it that Edwin Stanton, who was hurt at Agency last week was dead. This is a great mistake. In fact from the evidences of speedy recovery evinced by him he is worth a whole field full of dead men yet.

It is rumored that a mild game of "draw" has been running in town which is engaged in by boys and young men, in which the fever runs so high that the "pot" sometimes gets as high as fifteen cents. Better stop boys, before somebody finds it out on you.

The question of apportionment of school fund of Benton and Lincoln counties which is in dispute came up for hearing at a special term of court at Corvallis last week. The case was argued on demurrer of the Benton county attorneys and was taken under advisement by Judge Fullerton.

The Elk City hotel owned by M. W. Simpson, was sold last week to an Albany party by the name of L. W. Deyoe, who will soon take charge of it. Mr. Deyoe intends fitting the hotel up in good style and enter the field next summer for a share of the summer patronage. Elk City is an ideal hunting and fishing spot and there is no reason why his scheme should not be successful.

J. Henkle, of Philomath, was in Toledo yesterday.
'Squire Sylvester, of Newport, was in the city on business last Monday.

Fishermen are anxiously awaiting a run of salmon that will have salmon in it.

The Gervais Star has changed hands, J. M. McCullum, its founder, selling out to W. J. Clarke.

Miss Jessie Alexander has received an appointment at the Agency and went to that place last week to assume her duties.

Ray Arnold and Robert Collins, left for the hop fields yesterday, the former going to Independence and the latter to Woodburn.

The boys up at camp at Sulphur Springs sent down word that they had two deer in camp yesterday. They didn't say what they paid for them.

Miss Annie Dumond, of Albany, has been appointed teacher in the Indian school at Siletz, and arrived in Toledo last Monday on her way to the Agency.

We acknowledge the receipt of complimentary tickets to the Portland Exposition which opens the latter part of September and continues one month.

The case of Stevens vs. McNeil, tried before Judge Blue, some time ago has been appealed by the plaintiff and will now be tried at the next term of district court.

George Kirby, an old soldier who has been making his home at B. E. King's for some time, left yesterday morning for Colorado, going by the way of Idaho, where he will stop for a time.

The railroad company have set off a box car at this place and are fitting it up, supposedly for a mess house for Japanese section men, which they will probably replace the white section men with soon.

A kind of a managerial performance was given on the wharf the other day by an Oregon bear, an American camel and a German wolf, in which the bear came out first best, much to the merriment of the onlookers.

In order to thoroughly appreciate our magnificent climate one has but to spend a few hot and dusty days in the valley now. When a person starts down the decline on this side of the summit, and gets a good lung full of fresh air from up the old Yaquina, it makes him feel like a new man.

A car loaded with fruit on the eastbound train last Saturday was discovered to be on fire when it reached the depot at Corvallis. A few buckets of water extinguished the fire before much damage was done. The fire is supposed to have originated from a spark from the locomotive.

Miss Mary Mackay, the eldest daughter of Wm. Mackay, an old time resident of the Bay, but now of Corvallis, was married last Thursday to W. W. Redman, of Portland. The bride and groom are both deaf mutes, but are well educated, and the latter is a good mechanic. They will make their home in Portland.

By an order from Judge Fullerton Sheriff Landis went up to Chitwood last Monday morning and took possession of the depot at that place, over which there has been such contention, and turned it over to the representative of the O. P. company. The trouble between the company and their ex-agent will be settled in some other manner.

Assessor Parker is in receipt of an inquiry from parties at Ureka, California, who are seeking information concerning the resources of Lincoln county, and the coast slope generally. The parties are interested in a coast road scheme and wish to learn as much as possible of the character of the county and its resources. Mr. Parker answered them at some length, giving a general description of the county to them.

In the district court at Corvallis last week J. P. Fay, attorney for the bondholders' committee, appeared and ask for a postponement of the O. P. sale. An attempted sale could result in nothing that expenses would be large and under present financial conditions it would be useless and rash to attempt a sale and unwise to create further indebtedness in advertising property for sale. Sheriff was ordered accordingly to take no steps looking towards a sale.

The sureties on the Jobs bonds are Sol King, Thos. Graham, Dr. Farra, Wm. Mackay and Thomas Eglin.

Mrs. C. W. Parrish, and children, of Salem, have been visiting at J. W. Parrish's this week, arriving last Friday.

Frank Davey, superintendent of the Forest Grove Keeley institute, and grand lecturer of the A. O. U. W., came over from Albany today.

The female portion of the families of G. T. Smith and Wm. Brazelton have been camping a few days at Sulphur Springs, returning today.

Miss Fannie Peters, of Chicago, arrived in Toledo last Friday, and went to the Agency where she will take a position as assistant teacher in the Indian school.

Miss Minnie D. Smith, of this place, expects to teach a three months' term of school on Big Elk, above Elk City, beginning about the first of next month.

Irvin Smith, of Big Elk, who sent to Missouri some two months ago for a wife and secured one in the person of Mrs. E. Little, did not prosper largely in the matrimonial line, the wedded pair being now separated. The bride is now washing dishes in a Corvallis hotel and the groom is doing the bachelor act again on his Big Elk ranch.

You people who have planned your faith to Lincoln county need not be discouraged. Times are no worse with you than they are with other parts of the state or the United States. And the brighter future, which is surely dawning, holds a fuller measure of fruition of hopes for you than for many other parts of our country. The times will not always stay hard; the American people are too full of resources to always stay down; and the recovery will correspond in height to the depth in which we are now struggling.

The editor made a trip to the valley last week, and found business more depressed, if possible, than here. There was lots of wheat going to the mills and elevators, but most of it is being stored, and what is selling only brings from 43 to 45 cents per bushel, and at that price there is not much danger of the farmers becoming bloated capitalists. Hop picking has not yet begun and will not until some time next week, but the country was thronged with idle men waiting for that work to begin.

There is a brighter future for the newer and undeveloped portions of the Pacific coast than any other part of the whole country. The east is full of people who have been living on rented lands, or in towns and villages, and whose eyes are longingly turned toward the west with its promise of cheap homes. With the recovery of times, when such parties can at all dispose of their belongings in the east, there will be such a tide of immigration set to the Pacific coast as was never before known. They will come and settle on our sunny hillside and in our fertile valleys. They will till our soil, make lumber of our timber, make homes among us and help us to develop the grandest resources ever given to man by an all-wise Providence.

Waldport News.

Two boys rode into Waldport on their bicycles the other day. They rode all the way from Eugene to Florence, and then up the beach. They looked none the worse for their long ride.

Mr. Tally and Mr. Holly are visiting here for their health. They can be seen and interviewed every evening at Mr. Tally's new residence just outside the kitchen door by a pleasant fire.

Mrs. Wolf and Mrs. Marks, are visitors at Mrs. Howell's.

Mr. Lang, of Hecla, passed through town yesterday.

C. S. Gideon is renovating his shoe shop, and building a dwelling house. Any person wishing work done in the shoemaking line, just call and have a sociable chat with our shoemaker and their work will be promptly attended to.

It is no unusual thing to see a band of idle Chinamen marching through town with a white chicken under their arm.

Miss Beamer who was visiting her brother at Ten Mile has returned to her home.

The fishing business is uncommonly dull.

Any quantity of different kinds of small fish can be caught in the bay now.

Mr. C. W. Allen, of Coon Hollow, is home on a visit to his family.

The LINCOLN COUNTY LEADER is highly complimented by its readers for the stand it takes in defending the peoples rights in the Hamilton Job banking fraud.
